4) The Mysore Law Reports have been registered for copyright; while the Mysore Chief Court Reports have not been so registered. It will be worth while to know why this has not been done. If approved, the Chief Court will be addressed on this point.

5) Special permission will have to be given for reprinting the cases judgments reported in the Mysore Law Reports, no such permission being necessary in the case of the Chief Court Reports.

6) The next point for consideration is whether it is desirable to grant such permission. The object of copyright being registered in the law reports seems to be to guarantee the accuracy of such reports. Otherwise, the judgments may be reprinted, by irresponsible persons & the accuracy of the reprints cannot be guaranteed. Courts may rely upon such unauthenticated reports because they profess to reprint the decided cases. It is for this reason that Copyright is registered & it is for this reason that permission to reprint authorised reports should be given after careful consideration of the capacity & antecedents of the party applying for it. The Chief Courts' letter throws no light on this aspect of the question. It may also be mentioned that permission of the Govt of India is necessary to reprint the British Indian judgments reported the Copyright of which is with the Govt of India (vide Intro. to Sanyal Rao's Law Reports).

1) Unless Govt have more information that the applicant who is a Police Inspector can be safely entrusted with the task, it does not seem

To,

The Registrar of the

Hon'ble the Chief Court of Mysore,

Bangalore.

Sir,

During the course of my appointment as Prosecuting ~~Ins~~ Inspector in the Districts of Shimoga and Bangalore for the past six years, I have invariably found that a verbatim re-print of all the criminal cases reported in the volumes of the Mysore Chief Court Reports and Mysore Law Reports arrang-ed under each section of the different Codes and the Special & Local Laws would be of immense use and ready help to Police Officers and practitioners. The necessity is more keenly felt as the copies of the Mysore Law Reports are no where available for sale.

As I intend to publish one such at my own cost, I re-quest you to kindly obtain for me the sanction of the Hon'ble the Chief Court.

I Beg to remain,

Bangalore.

Sir,

SERIAL NO. 3

To

The Secretary to Government, General & Revenue Depts.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No. 2997/ Gts. 237-12-2 dated the 9th instant, I am directed to state that the Mysore Law Reports was a private publication started by the late Mr. J. W. Hayes and he had his Copyright registered. When the authorized reports (The Mysore Chief Court Reports) were started with a small subscription of Rs 5 per annum as against Rs 12 charged by Mr. Hayes, no infringement of Copyright was apprehended. Though the rate has since been reduced to Rs 3/- there are not now more than 8 or 9 subscribers. If the Government so desire, necessary steps will be taken to reserve the Copyright.

As regards the permission asked for

for by M. Sreenivasa, I am to state that the applicant who is a law graduate and a Police Inspector, may be entrusted with the task of accurately printing the Criminal cases.
